President's Message

Dear Guild Members,

As I write this letter I am packing to return to Florida, as I'm sure, many others are. I can't wait until I see my quilting family. After 20 years of being in our guild and holding the president's position for 7 years (1 remaining), I find that my heart is in Florida. I love watching my Great Grandchildren, but most of my friends are in Florida now.

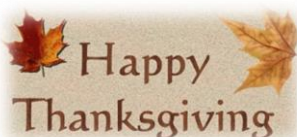

I hope you all have marked your calendar for Friday, November 5th from 9:30am until 1:00pm for our Guild Yard Sale at the Quarry. We will be allowing a couple of other guilds to come at 10:30, so come early. There will be a ton of books (many are fairly new which were donated by our dear member, Betty Johnson), tons of fabric plus, a few other goodies donated by guild members. We will only be taking cash or checks.

Our retreat was a big success and we have scheduled again for next year. Please mark your calendars for February 28 and March 1st, 2nd and 3rd, 2022. We had a count of 30 ladies at last year's Retreat of which 17 made the quilt that Ava Rossler taught (free class). They all turned out beautiful and I'm looking forward to show and tell. I wonder what pattern we'll be doing in March 2022?

Please mark your calendars for January 11, 2022 and February 8, 2022 for the Mystery Quilt class at The Quarry Enrichment Center. Sandy Wesley has worked her magic and secured the Quarry upstairs and downstairs for these two classes. We are forgoing the March class as we have many classes to schedule (such a good thing!). You will be receiving a separate email just before I leave for Florida to tell you all the information. We have a busy schedule for the next 12 months and hope that the COVID stays away. Christmas party, Mystery Quilt, Guild Retreat and many wonderful classes.

OOPS!!!!!!!!!!!!!! AND DON'T FORGET ABOUT LUNCH..... (he he)

Fondly,
Karen Pilon

Guild Challenge - 2021

2021 Hernando Quilt Guild Challenge

Home Sweet Home

One of our favorite quilt blocks is the house pattern. Since the pieced block is technically simple, there is ample opportunity for experimentation. Our theme for 2021 is Home Sweet Home. Let your imagination run wild! Build your entry around the house of your dreams, the house of your childhood, a holiday house (don't get stuck on the standards – think about "Take your Pet to the Vet Day", Ground Hogs Day, Arbor Day, National Donut Day, etc.). How about your favorite house to visit, a haunted house or even your "today" house? Feel free to add activities, landscaping, pets, automobiles, hobbies, flora, fauna and/or other embellishments. You may use a purchased pattern, design one of your own, or use one of the blocks suggested by the committee. Don't limit yourself to a quilt or a wall hanging. Perhaps a pillow or a bag or a fabric basket.

As part of the challenge each participant must purchase a fat quarter of "Home Again Houses" fabric for $5.00 as an entry fee (see Pam Russavage). This fabric must be visibly incorporated into the quilt top, although it's not necessary to use the entire fat quarter. To reclaim your entry fee, you must turn in your project for display and judging at the end of the challenge. Any entry fee not reclaimed will be donated to the guild to be used in one of its charities.

Categories: Entries will be judged in one category.

Judging: The Guild Members will be judging for "Best of Show", 1st place, 2nd place, and 3rd place. Guild members will also vote for the winner of "Viewer's Choice".

Composition: You must have the fabric "Home Again Houses" visibly included on the quilt top.

Quilting: You must have hand or machine quilting on your entry.

Size: No smaller than 16X16 and no larger than 45x60. If your entry is smaller or larger than the specifications, your entry will not be judged.

Due Date: October 28, 2021 – Guild Meeting

Rules: You are not allowed to use a project that has been made previous to this challenge. It must be made between March 26, 2020 and October 28, 2021. There will be a sign-up sheet when you turn in your entry. You must label the back of your entry with your name and the entry title.

Show & Tell- September, 2021

Trunk Show at the September Meeting by "BEYOND THE STITCHES"

1st VP Louise Isabelle welcomed the ladies from "Beyond the Stitches". They presented a show and tell of items made in classes recently held. Dondi explained their philosophy and mission for how they operate their store. Items were available for purchase by our members. Members were encouraged to sign up for the Beyond the Stitches Newsletter for up-to-date information on classes and discounts. The monthly discount can be used multiple times.

Raelee Russavage made these beautiful flowers on her embroidery machine for her mother. Really beautiful!

We had a little guest at our last meeting, Margo Wyllie's grandson. What a cutie!

Sandy Davis is holding two of her wool applique items. She taught a class recently and I can't wait for October show & Tell for the results.

Kathy Bixby is showing one of her beautiful quilts. So much talent.

Jamie Crowe is showing some of her beautiful wool applique quilts. Thankful, Garden Gathering and Tree of Life. Wonderful!

Gayle Keenan displays her fun sailboats. I believe she won them from Block of The Month!

Denise Jolliffe made this very colorful patriotic quilt. Nice Job!

Tekla Bell is showing her handmade Grandmother's Flower Garden. Great accomplishment.

Louise Isabelle is displaying her 3" Star Blocks which she made with her special ruler called "Strippy Stars" by Creative Grids. Perfect Points! Great!

Sandy Wesley is so proud of her pumpkin she made in a recent class. Great Fall decoration.

THIS & THAT

Stash Management

Almost all quilters have a fabric stash; some are quite substantial! I've heard quilters cheekily say they don't own stashes, they "curate fabric collections." Just for fun, I looked up the definition of the word "stash," and according to Webster, a stash is "a supply of something, typically one that is kept hidden or secret." Yep, that about sums it up. (Webster's wife must have been a quilter!)

In this era of making purposeful purchases, many quilters feel the need to actually use the fabrics they already own. I've seen quilters on social media post about their de-stashing attempts. They may share how many yards of fabric they began the year with and then list the number of yards they use for each quilt they make. Some downsize and host a fabric stash sale (been there, done that), and others are simply bewildered at the thought of trying to use all the fabric they've owned for years. It can be very overwhelming. Where do you begin?

Let's start with fat quarters. I don't think there is a quilter alive who doesn't own one or more of them. Fat quarters have been around for decades because of their fabulously usable size. They measure about 18" x 20"—enough fabric to do lots of things with, yet small enough to be affordable. They are like quilters' candy bars. Even when you go to your local quilt shop to peruse the aisles and nothing on the bolts jumps out to say "take me home," chances are you'll pick up a fat quarter or two at the register because it doesn't seem right to leave empty handed.

Some quilters buy fat quarter bundles and save them for "someday," but they never get around to untying the bow because they simply don't know how to use them to their best advantage. If you're one of those folks, I've got some great ideas for tackling those cutie-patootie fabric bundles by cutting them into usable sizes you'll reach for to incorporate into your next quilt! Here are a couple of ways I like to cut my fat quarters:

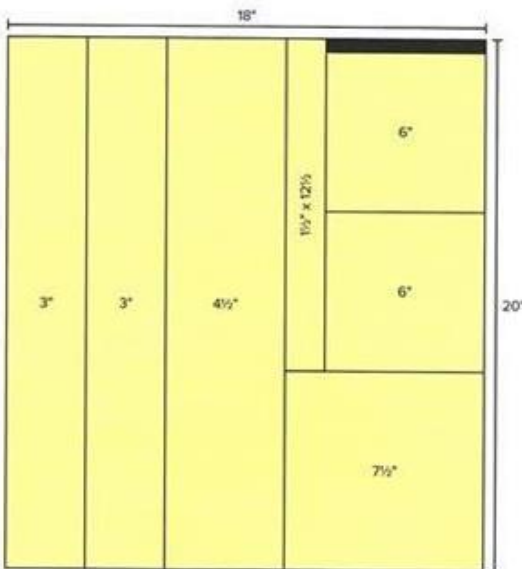

Figure 2

In Figure 2, I cut each fat quarter into the following sizes:

- 2 – 3" strips
- 1 – 4½" strip
- 1 – 1½" x 12½" strip
- 2 – 6" x 6" squares
- 1 – 7½" x 7½" square

These sizes work well for more traditional construction methods (the 3" strips can easily be turned into 2¾" x 2¾" squares for half-square triangles, and so on) and give you more options for appliqué shapes and larger pieced units.

Of course, you can certainly adjust these sizes to fit your specific quilting needs. Ultimately, you want them to be usable sizes within easy reach so you won't put off sewing them into your blocks and quilts.

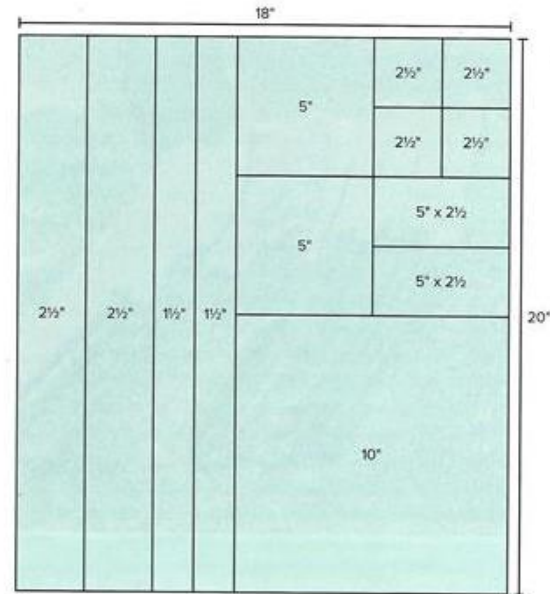

Figure 1

In Figure 1, I cut each fat quarter into the following sizes:

- 2 – 2½" strips
- 2 – 1½" strips
- 1 – 10" x 10" square
- 2 – 5" x 5" squares
- 2 – 5" x 2½" rectangles
- 4 – 2½" x 2½" squares

These sizes are some of the most commonly used sizes in quilting. They will unlock a plethora of block options, as you can construct blocks and patterns written especially for precuts like strip rolls, 10" squares, and 5" squares. If you tend to make these types of quilts, this method gives you the most bang for your fat-quarter buck.

In The Quilt Of Life,

Stitches That

Together

Here are some other things to consider:

Forget the eighths. When cutting fat quarters, focus on cutting quarter-, half-, and whole-inch increments so you don't spend too much time cutting anything with a one-eighth-inch size. When you want smaller units, you can trim to eighth-inch increments for traditional construction methods.

Sort and store. Use clear plastic storage boxes, clean pizza boxes, or empty shoe boxes to store each individual size. For instance, start a pile of 2½" strips in one box, 10" squares in another box, and so on. Label everything plainly by the size of the units so you can reach for them at a glance.

A few minutes here and there... Every time you go into your studio, set aside 20–30 minutes to cut a few fat quarters and sort the units. Don't feel pressured to do it all at once. It will get done eventually.

Organize colors and styles. It helps to keep the colors or types of fabrics grouped together to make it easier to find a certain size for your quilts. Store your batiks in one pile, your reproduction fabrics in another pile, and so on. Or, if you are a scrappy quilter, store like colors together.

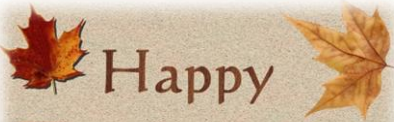

Tackle small yardage amounts. Once you've cut all your fat quarters, look through your stash for other small amounts of fabric or unusually shaped pieces of yardage. If you have a third of a yard or less, you're more likely to use the fabric if you cut it up into strips, squares, or rectangles.

Stash management may seem like a Herculean task, but with a little cutting and persistence, you'll have many usable sizes of fabric to reach for when constructing your quilts! So, get your rotary cutter out and start cutting!

Quilted blessings!

'Twas The Night Before Christmas Especially For Quilters

*T'was the night before Christmas,
And the quilts were not made.
The threads were all tangled, the cookies delayed.
The stockings weren't hung, the pantry was bare.
The poor weary Quilter, was tearing out her hair.
Stacks of fat quarters, tipped over in streams.
Visions of Log Cabins, had turned into dreams.*

*When what to her wondering eyes should appear,
But a bus full of quilters with all of their gear.
They went straight to work with just a few mutters,
Sorting and stitching and brandishing cutters.
The patterns emerged from all of the clutter,
Like magic the fabrics arranged in a flutter.
Log Cabins, Lone Stars, Flying Geese & Bear Tracks
Each quilt was a beauty – even the backs.*

*Her house how it twinkled, her quilts how they glowed.
The cookies were baking, the stockings were sewed.
Their work was all done, so they folded their frames,
And packed up their needles, without giving their names.
They boarded the bus, and checked the next address.
More quilts to be made, another quilter in distress.*

*She heard one voice echo, as they drove out of sight,
Happy quilting to all and to all a good night!*
